

---

BUSINESS

---

Ansley Communications enters partnership with ConferTel

Ansley Communications, the region's leader in business communications, announced today that the company has enhanced its audio and web conferencing applications through its strategic partnership with ConferTel, an innovative provider of teleconferencing solutions.

Ansley Communications will offer ConferTel's Virtual Attendant @ Your Service, a full-featured conferencing service offering operator-assisted functions at 'reservation-less' pricing and i-Present Pro, a professional yet affordable service for conducting everyday web meetings.

"We listened to what our customers were asking for with their operator-assisted and large event calls," said Michael Foor, President of Ansley Communications. "After a thorough analysis of audio and web conferencing solutions we determined that ConferTel's Virtual Attendant and i-Present Pro provided the highest level of quality and consistency. These are valuable and necessary business tools that help companies improve employee productivity and be more effective in their ability to communicate with greater numbers of people."

Michael Foor, President of Ansley Communications